

ARE GERMAN LETTERS BARED

Bismarck's Contempt for Lawmakers Reflected in Missives

BERLIN, April 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Bismarck's contempt for the parliamentary system, even in the early days of the empire, finds picturesque expression in a letter addressed by the Iron Chancellor to General Bismarck von Schellern, Prussian minister of war, the details of which have been placed in the disposal of The Associated Press.

The letters were written at Friedrichshagen, the chancellor's rural retreat near Hamburg, during the holiday season of 1886.

They were prompted by pending measures for which the government required the Reichstag's approval. One of the measures concerned the strength of 468,409 men. Another dealt with an investigation of the merits of the eight million mark over a large cabinet system. General Bismarck was obliged to carry on long negotiations with the Reichstag's committees, and reported their progress to the chancellor.

Bismarck's comment on the opposition tactics employed by the opposition bloc, which then comprised Socialists, Liberals and Socialists, was to assume that our opponents believe the very things of which they accuse us in hardly expedient in the light of traditional parliamentary hypocrisies.

"At the time the government's attitude did not conceal the fact that it desired to take this exhibition of parliamentary theatricalism seriously and it is quite conscious of the lack of sincerity shown by its opponents."

Bismarck gave suggestions to Bismarck in connection with his dealings with the Reichstag's leaders, who were strongly opposed to hobnobbing with the parliamentarians.

"We associated with them intensively," the chancellor warns Bismarck, "not only will the public at large, but the imposters themselves, have the impression that we are dealing them a measure of confidence. Such an assumption would serve to make them yet more important."

OPPOSES OPEN DEBATE

Another letter Bismarck directed to the Reichstag's demand that relations should be debated in any session.

"Our constitution," he says, "does not give us the right to debate relations with the nation's foreign powers. This concession would create a precedent that the German Kaiser is answerable to parliament. It would also be desirable to have open issues discussed in open session with the purpose of inspiring public reaction abroad, but the Reichstag is not entitled to demand such privilege, and our constitution does not accord it competency in this field. If we make a practice of stating it into a running status of foreign relations policies we are creating a precedent which will tend to obscure the crown."

SYSTEM CHANGED

The chancellor makes specific reference in a letter dated December 14, 1911, to the Reichstag's demand that relations with the nation's foreign powers, Windthorst and Richter. "We do not assume that these gentlemen are sincere collaborators in the treatment of them would only in their prestige," is the chancellor's final warning to General Bismarck.

At the time of Bismarck's parliamentary attitude in Germany has changed radically. The system as now led virtually puts the chancellor back and call of the political arena, who are literally privileged to describe the rules of his official act.

NANT GETS $25
OR EACH NEW BABY

CHICAGO, April 1.—Harry A. Daley is building a 32-flat building with a perambulator stall for apartment, has announced that tenant who receives a call from Daley will get a cash present of $25. Should twins be left he'll make $50. He makes no promise as to whether he'll make $25 or $50.

Mr. Daley's theory is that he wants to see lots of children and my building for they make more homes and that means better more contented tenants.

SECOND WIFE GOES TO COURT

Separation Action Follows
$100,000 Suit By Mate of
First Wife

NEW YORK, April 1.—The marital difficulties of George T. Williams, of the Williams Steamship company, took a fresh and complicated turn Friday when his second wife, Mrs. Isabel Williams, began supreme court action in New York county for a separation.

Williams has been sued for $100,000 in Westchester county by William J. Lester, office manager of the Olympic Steel company of Seattle, Wash., for alienating the affections of Mrs. Lester, who was Williams' first wife.

Mrs. Williams charges that the steamship man had maintained improper relations with Mrs. Lester since 1920 and characterized his behavior as "continuous cruelty."

Williams and his first wife lived together for five years after their marriage in Camden, N. J., and when they were divorced she moved to Seattle, where she was married to Lester. Williams and the wife who now sues for separation were married in Jersey City.

Mrs. Williams alleged that shortly after her husband had made about $2,000,000 from the successful operation of his steamship company, he met his former wife in Seattle and "resumed what was deemed at that time to be only friendly relations."

That was in May, 1920, Mrs. Williams asserts. On information and belief she alleges her husband induced Mrs. Lester to come to New York and abandon her husband in Seattle. Mrs. Lester arrived in New York July 5, 1920, she said, "and has been kept and supported by this defendant continuously since then," in houses on Riverside Drive and West Eighteenth street.

MASTER RADICAL BECOMES TAMED

Dr. Max Cohen Recants
Anarchism After Being
World Fugitive

NEW YORK, April 1.—Dr. Max Cohen, known to the police as the "master anarchist," and sought on an indictment for criminal anarchy, surrendered in supreme court, recanted anarchism, entered a plea of guilty to the charge against him and was placed on probation for five years under a suspended sentence.

Dr. Cohen, formerly secretary of the Left Wing Communist party, was indicted with James Larkin, Irish agitator; Isaac Ferguson, a Chicago lawyer; Charles B. Rubenstein, former Socialist leader, and Benjamin Gitlow, former Socialist assemblyman from New York in November, 1919. The other four were convicted and now are serving terms in Sing Sing prison.

Dr. Cohen fled to Mexico whence he went to Russia and other European countries.

He told Justice Wasservogel he was "dread of wandering like a hunted beast over the face of the earth" and that he was through with the doctrines of anarchism.

He had become thoroughly convinced, he said, that the anarchistic theories, if put into practice, would "swing the world back to savagery."

His greatest desire, he said, was to be allowed to publicly renounce anarchism, to become a law-abiding citizen and to return to his wife and son in Queensborough.

Justice Wasservogel, in suspending sentence, warned Dr. Cohen that the slightest violation of his parole would mean a long term in Sing Sing.

He left assuring the justice that court rooms would know him no more.

REFORMS PROPOSED.

MEXICO CITY, April 1.—Reforms in the Mexican constitution designed to eliminate all obstacles to recognition of foreign powers are proposed in the platform of the Great Liberal party which has just been revived after years of inactivity.

Gunboat Williams—pug with the pile-driver punch.

Some son, you'll say, for a nice respectable papa, mixing with lords and dukes. Some lover for lady fair, queening it over society's elite.

But hurry for a lad that was never licked. And—Come see 'em all fall for Gunboat.

Six joyous reels to a finish, with beauty and "class" at the ringside.

THEATRES

Tom Mix Coming to Ogden
Theatre in Whirlwind
Picture

Tom Mix, the whirlwind star, beats the speed of his own bullets in his latest picture, "Sky-High." If advance notices mean anything, what with Tony, his wonderful horse, a government airplane, and the Grand Canyon of Arizona as a background, Mix is said to out-Mix himself in stunts and sheer well-folishness (if Mr. Mix doesn't see the word and come to make us swallow it).

There are a lot of reasons why motion picture fans adore Tom Mix, and "Sky-High," which opens at the Ogden theatre today, is declared to be the best reason his followers ever had for doing so. It is usually found that Tom doesn't even bother about living up to his advance notices. He keeps far ahead of them.

"Sky-High" shows Mix in the kind of role his devotees like best. He is seen as a Government Immigration agent, down in Arizona, trying to squelch a band of smugglers who are sneaking Chinamen through. And Tom muzzes up the landscape considerable before he's through with them.

The big outstanding stunt is his dash through the Grand Canyon in an airplane—braving airpockets, skimming off the sides of the giant precipices and dropping from a rope into the Colorado river. Before that he rides Tony hell-for-leather right around the dizzy rim of the Canyon.

'The Barnstormer' New Ray
Orpheum

How does this sound?
In "The Barnstormer," his latest picture for First National release, Charles Ray—
Appears as a boy on a farm who "knows" he was born to be an actor.

Practices makeup secretly, using putty, lamplblack and other crude materials.

Tries to photograph himself in character.

Is hired as an actor, but finds himself a porter, call boy, piano player, stage hand, and a few other things.

Rustles trunks, passes handbills and runs errands.

Mimics the leading man.

Saves an audience from losing all their valuables.

Falls in love with a girl soda fountain clerk.

These interesting incidents have been woven together by Richard Andros, the author, into a story which is packed with laughs—the kind that only Ray can arouse.

The picture plays the Orpheum theatre today and Monday—two days only.

Wallace Reid to Be Seen
Today at Alhambra in New Picture

The versatility of Wallace Reid, the popular Paramount star appearing today at the Alhambra theatre in "The World's Champion," his latest Paramount starring vehicle, was strikingly shown during the filming of that picture when he stayed at home on a certain day when he wasn't needed, and invited a friend to enjoy his day's vacation with him.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY,
BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment of disfigurement. A little jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

It was a day of varied delights, according to the friend who afterwards related just how the time was spent. A plunge in the swimming pool at Reid's palatial Hollywood home sharpened their appetites for breakfast.

After they had dined, they went to the music room and played for an hour on the piano organ and piano, the star alternating between the two with equal skill. Following the hour of music, Reid took his friend to the den and amused him with tricks of magic while waiting for lunch, and while in the den he also uncovered a sheaf of poetry written by himself.

Eighteen holes of golf at the Hollywood country club followed lunch—of course the friend lost—and on the way home Reid took his guest for a spin through the beautiful Beverly Hills district. Before dinner, Wally entertained with his violin and saxophone, finishing with a few snatches on the banjo, guitar and mandolin. The two men spent the evening playing back line billiards.

New 'Passing Show' Will Be at Orpheum
Thursday

The newest of "Passing Shows" and the last of the New York Winter Garden extravaganza will take the stage of the Orpheum Thursday night, April 6. Owing to the enormous size of production curtain will rise at 8.

In two acts and twenty-six scenes this latest revue is said to be a whirlwind of vaudeville, musical comedy, drama, burlesque, opera, ballets and beautiful girls. The coming of this and beautiful girls.

HOUSEWIFE BECOMES NEW WOMAN

"All of our best doctors had given me up. I was unable to leave my bed for 16 weeks and was yellow as a pumpkin, besides the terrible stomach pains I suffered. Our druggist advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy and it has saved my life. I am a new woman now." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by A. R. McIntyre Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

brilliant and famous attraction, which is said to have been breaking box-office records everywhere, promises to be one of the real theatrical treats of the season. Willie and Eugene Howard are the stars and they are two of the best entertainers today before the public.

It has always been the plan to travel stage successes in "The Passing Show" and this production pays close attention to that end of the business. Among the shows which receive attention are "Lightnin'" with a wonderful imitation of Frank Bacon by Willie Howard; "The Bat" with Eugene Howard; "Little Old New York," "Mecca," "Spanish Love" and "The Charm School."

In addition to a vehicle of unusual character and quality, the Howards enjoy the advantage of a cast of excellence. It includes the well known teams of Cortez and Peggy, Masters and Brown, and Schode and Aronson; the feminine portion being May Boleyn, Ina Hayward, Emily Miles, Norma Hamilton, Peggy Brown, Flo Somerville, Dolores Suarez, Tiny Collins, Dot Mantell, Mary Booth, Margaret Wood and Edith Lawrence, while some of the men are Will Philbrick, John Quinlan, Jack Rice, W. H. Pringle, Frank Masters, Robert Gilbert, Anthony Jochim, Victor Bozart, Francis X. Mahoney, Jack Hall and Joe Quarters, not forgetting the famous Winter Garden chorus—seventy-five beauties of distinctive personalities, who will be presented in a manner unequalled in the history of the American stage.

MUST DETAIL HER
$160,000 EXPENSES

NEW YORK, April 1.—Edith Kelly Gould was ordered by Supreme Court Justice Newburger today to submit a statement of the manner in which she spent $150,000 for which she is suing her former husband, Frank J. Gould. Justice Newburger also denied Mrs. Gould's application for a stay of all proceedings pending an appellate court decision in her suit attacking the validity of the divorce decree awarded Mr. Gould by the French courts.

Mrs. Gould's $150,000 suit is based on claims that this sum represented her household and other necessary expenses since her separation from Mr. Gould.

Nearly 2500 tons of grapes were used in the Canadian wine industry in 1920.

20-YEAR WHISKY AGED IN 20 MINUTES

CHICAGO, April 1.—One of the most complete scientific outfits yet found for the manufacture and aging of moonshine whisky has been seized by the government, Harry L. Brin, assistant United States district attorney, announces. His announcement followed the returning of an indictment by the federal grand jury against August Roach, charged with having violated the prohibition law.

According to federal authorities Roach aged whisky 20 years in as many minutes by manipulating an ozone machine, and running a current of electricity through it.

For Thin Waists and Sleeveless Gowns

(Toilet Tips)

A safe, certain method for ridding the skin of ugly, hairy growths is as follows: Mix a paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface about 2 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is entirely harmless and seldom requires repeating, but to avoid disappointment it is advisable to see that you get genuine delatone. Mix fresh as wanted.—Advertisement.
